

Premier Predicts French Approval Of German Arms Pact

PARIS (P)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France pushed ahead today with his drive for quick National Assembly endorsement of the London agreement to rearm Germany. He claimed an "important majority" would back him Tuesday in the parliamentary vote, which would unseat his government if he lost.

The National Council of the powerful Socialist party, which holds 105 seats in the 627-member Assembly, scheduled a meeting tonight to set the faction's policy on the nine-power proposals.

Controls Criticized
The National Committee of another major assembly group, the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), disapproved the London accords Sunday but left their Deputies' Committee a final decision on how the 88 Assembly members from the party should vote.

The MRP whose leaders include former Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman and Georges Bidault, had led the unsuccessful fight for Assembly approval of the European Defense Community (EDC). The party contends that the London proposals do not contain enough of the international control of German rearmament which EDC would have provided.

The Socialist council who had backed EDC and expelled three top leaders from the party who voted against that treaty. A 50-50 split in the party's deputies on the EDC vote was one of the factors in its rejection in August.

Communists Opposed
Mendes-France apparently anticipates a sizable backing from the Socialists and MRP, no matter what their party commands decide. The Premier is certain of solid opposition from the Assembly's 100 Communists and fellow travelers.

Mendes-France voiced his confident expectations Sunday in a speech at Pont Saint-Pierre, in his native Normandy. He told his audience "a large area of agreement has appeared" in the Assembly debate on the London agreements.

Texas Attorney Acquitted In Error Slaying

By WILBUR MARTIN
WACO Tex. (P)—A South Texas lawyer has been acquitted of a charge he took part in a murder plot that wound up with a politician's son shot dead by mistake.

Nago Alaniz, 39, had been accused as part of what the state called a plot to kill Jacob S. Floyd Sr. of Alice, chief rival of Duval County political boss George B. Parr. The gunman got Floyd's son instead, the state said.

A jury Sunday found Alaniz, of Duval County, innocent on a charge of accomplice to murder after a week-long trial here on a venue change.

Jacob S. Floyd Jr., 21, University of Texas student, was shot by a hidden gunman at the rear of the Floyd home the night of Sept. 8, 1952. At that moment, his father and Alaniz were meeting at an Alice drive-in.

Floyd Sr. said the meeting followed an urgent phone call by Alaniz in which the latter told Floyd to come by taxi, not his car.

The state said the trigger man was Alfredo Cervantes, a Mexican national who has never been arrested or indicted.

The state charged that Alaniz and Mario (El Turko) Sape, San Antonio bar owner and former Duval County deputy sheriff, had plotted to have the elder Floyd killed. It said Alaniz was to lure Floyd Sr. to his garage with a telephone call but "lost his guts" at the last minute and called him to the secret meeting to warn him.

Sape, the state said, was to provide the killer's getaway car. Sape has been sentenced to 99 years on conspiracy charges in the slaying.

Iron Mountain Hunter Is Found

IRON MOUNTAIN (P)—A bird hunter missing for 24 hours in rugged upper Michigan brush country was found today.

He is Alfred P. Miller Sr., mechanical superintendent of the Iron Mountain News. Two members of a volunteer searching party came across him walking along a road about 1½ miles northwest of where he went into the Six-Mile Lake area, 40 miles northeast of Iron Mountain.

Miller was weak from exposure to an all night driving rain but his condition was not serious. He said he walked all night trying to find his way out.

Miller, 59, and his son, Alfred Jr., also a News mechanical employee, separated while hunting birds and planned to meet two hours later where they had parked their car.

Young Miller kept the appointment and waited until 4 p. m. for his father. Then he called for help to search the rugged country near Felch.

Ending Segregation In Schools Goes On Calmly In Kansas

By RENE J. CAPPON
TOPEKA Kan. (P)—Stepping softly but taking long strides, Kansas school officials are moving rapidly toward complete integration of white and Negro schools.

The atmosphere has been one of great calm.

The South has been deeply stirred by the Supreme Court decision last May that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. Integration steps in the nation's capital, in Baltimore and other communities have produced

Vote Outlook For Nov. 2 Has G. O. P. Worried

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—History and their own slim majority in both houses are enough to make the Republicans worry about the outcome of the Nov. 2 congressional elections. Worried they seem to be.

A squad of Republican leaders descended on President Eisenhower's vacation spot last week for a conference. Afterwards it was learned Eisenhower will make more speeches than he seems to have intended.

On Their Own
Thirty-seven Senate seats and 432 House seats are at stake in November. Maine has already elected a Republican senator and three House members.

Going into these elections for a new Congress, the Republicans in the present Congress have a margin of only two Senate seats over the Democrats and a margin of only three in the House.

In a presidential election year, when a party's candidate wins the White House through his own wide popularity, a number of his party's candidates for Congress ride in on his coattails.

Eisenhower's sensational victory in 1952 has been credited with sweeping his Republicans into control of House and Senate although even at that they barely made it in both places.

But, since his is a mid-term election and Eisenhower's name won't be on the ballot, they'll have to depend on themselves, their party's record and such help as

Stevenson Clashes With Nixon, Predicts Swing To Democrats

(By The Associated Press)
Vice President Nixon and Adlai Stevenson crossed verbal swords Sunday in the wake of Stevenson's scathing criticism of the Eisenhower administration in a speech Saturday night.

Arriving in Los Angeles shortly after Stevenson left the city for Phoenix, Ariz., the vice president said the Democrats' 1952 presidential candidate "like other Democratic leaders is offering destructive criticism apparently because they have no constructive suggestions to offer."

Told of this later at Albuquerque, N.M., Stevenson retorted: "Mr. Nixon's remarks remind me of a wonderful and classic remark a woman juror made when she turned to a neighbor and said, 'I don't want to listen to the evidence. I like to make up my own mind.'"

Stevenson told a news conference he has detected "a tremendous swing" toward the Democratic party throughout the nation. He predicted the Democrats would "win control of the House by 30 or 40 seats." He said he also thinks the Democrats will win control of the Senate.

Stevenson's Saturday night speech was to a Democratic rally in the Hollywood Bowl, where two weeks earlier President Eisenhower had teed off on the Democrats at a GOP pep session. Stevenson said in part:

"The harsh fact is that in 20 months of bluff and bluster, confusion and contradiction, we have lost influence and friends faster than at any time since Warren Harding and the Republican repudiation of international cooperation after the first war."

Stevenson said the real issue in this election "is whether Congress will function more effectively under a divided, quarrelsome Republican regime than it will under the proved leadership of the Democratic party."

Wilson Speaks At $100-A-Plate Detroit Dinner

(By The Associated Press)
Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson will be principal speaker at a $100-a-plate Republican banquet at Detroit's Masonic Temple tonight. He'll share the stump with Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) and the Republican nominee for governor, Donald S. Leonard.

Michigan Democrats got a plug from Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) Saturday. The 1952 presidential aspirant opened a 17-state campaign tour on behalf of Democratic candidates with a speech at Flint.

Kefauver spoke glowingly of Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic nominee for U. S. senator, and Don Hayworth, Sixth District congressional nominee. He called for the election of a Democratic Congress in November "to save the nation from Republican policies."

McNamara in a speech Sunday before the joint committee of the Jewish Community Council and Zionist Council of Detroit accused the administration of "allowing American diplomacy in the Near East to be swayed by political policies of American-owned oil companies to the detriment of peace."

"The oil companies have enormous interests in the Arab states, with no money invested in Israel because no oil has been found there," McNamara said.

"Under present policies, the avowed enemies of Israel are being given weapons of war with no guarantee that these will not be used against our friend in the Near East."

Subversive List Raised To 1,743

WASHINGTON (P)—The Eisenhower administration today raised to 1,743 its official count of federal workers fired or resigned with subversive data in their files. The figure was up 1,314 since last March.

The number was reported by the Civil Service Commission as of last June 30 and covered the period since President Eisenhower's new security program went into effect May 28, 1953.

The count has become a hot political issue. Vice President Nixon has said repeatedly the administration has removed "Communists, fellow travelers and security risks" from the government payroll, not by the hundreds but by the thousands.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has challenged Nixon to name a single Communist let out under the program. Mitchell contended Nixon is lumping real subversives with such persons as loose talkers and drunks.

The new tabulation listed the 1,473 "separations" as cases in which the employees' services were "terminated," or who resigned, with their files containing "information indicating, in varying degrees, subversive activities, subversive associations, or membership in subversive organizations."

Altogether, the new tabulation showed 2,611 cases of "termination for information under 8 (A)." That reference was to the section of the Eisenhower security program covering such matters as sex perversion, felonies and misdemeanors, and all other types of derogatory material, along with information relating to subversion.

Under the same "8 (A)" heading 4,315 were reported as having resigned before determination of their cases.

A one-inch piece of crocheted thread found at the murder scene was traced to Chapin's home, and Springfield police say Chapin, who acted as a pallbearer at the murdered girl's funeral, admitted the slaying. ## Shipwreck Survivors Tell Of Sea Terrors; Skipper, 36 Men Lost

NORFOLK, Va. (P)—Eleven sea message and crewmen were unable to get lifeboats into the water. The ship carried no life rafts.

The Mormackite sank under the brutal pounding of wind-whipped Atlantic seas 150 miles east-southeast of Cape Henry.

The 11 survivors brought to Norfolk Sunday by three Navy vessels, told of seeing sharks by the hundreds after their ship sank. Some of the sharks were "12, 14 and 16 feet long," reported Patadio Del Valle of New York City. One of three who clung atop a makeshift raft, Del Valle said rescue came just in time to keep his group from taking their own lives. After his arrival in port, he told newsmen:

"On the last day we started to think how we could take our lives away the easiest. When you're drinking salt water and taking it into your lungs, it is terrible. Yesterday (Saturday) morning the three of us decided to do it. Then we saw a Navy carrier and then there were planes. Another hour and we would have been dead."

Physicians at the U. S. Public Health Service hospital here said none of the 11 survivors was in serious condition.

The Coast Guard called off the search for other survivors Sunday.

Communists Parade With Loot At Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina (P)—Elements of the Communist-led Vietminh 305th and 352nd divisions, loaded down with the booty they won at Dien Bien Phu, paraded through the crowded business section of Hanoi Sunday.

Sloppy Drivers Being Weeded Out In Michigan

LANSING (P)—Nearly 10,000 Michigan motorists called on the carpet to explain their bad driving record.

Nearly 7,000 of them ordered off the roads for varying periods. About 2,900 allowed to continue driving under the warning "one more and out."

More than 26,000 drivers warned that their driving record was pulling them close to the danger point.

That, says Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, is what Michigan's new driver licensing law has achieved in its first year of operation.

New Division Created

The new law was passed by the 1953 Legislature and became effective last October in response to demands for a new approach to the rising tide of highway accidents and deaths.

The new approach is to rid the highways of dangerous drivers. To do this, the Legislature created a new division in Cleary's office—integrating all phases of motor vehicle ownership and use, all licensing and control of the driver.

The new law was patterned on recommendations of such national organizations as the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the Automotive Safety

Justice Jackson Memorial Today

WASHINGTON (P)—Brief memorial services were planned by the Supreme Court today in tribute to Justice Robert H. Jackson, who died of a heart attack Saturday. He was 62.

Jackson had been a part of the official life of the capital for 21 years and a Supreme Court justice for 13. He had suffered a light heart attack last March.

Brought to Washington by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, he was the solicitor general who argued before the Supreme Court the validity of much of the sweeping legislation of the early New Deal years.

He won international recognition years later when he took leave from the Supreme Court to serve as chief U. S. prosecutor at the War Crimes trials of major Nazis at Nuernberg after World War II.

He had driven to Washington from his home at nearby McLean, Va., Saturday to shop and go to his office. Stricken while driving near the home of his secretary, Mrs. Elsie Douglas, he went to her apartment seeking help and died there shortly after the arrival of his physician, Dr. Hill Carter.

Services will be held in Washington Episcopal cathedral Sunday.

Trains Stopped By High Water; Power Disrupted

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO (P)—Widespread flooding in the wake of a record six-inch rain partially paralyzed Chicago today disrupting routine for hundreds of thousands and jolting the city's vital commerce and industry.

No one knew for certain the dollar loss to business as water from the choked Chicago River spilled into basements and sub-basements, stopped rail traffic at Union Station, cut power output and threw scores of thousands out of work.

Suburbs Marooned

Thousands of householders in the city's south and west sections, and in suburbs were marooned as lakes were spawned throughout neighborhoods.

City transport was badly crippled by flooded underpasses which necessitated rerouting of bus and auto traffic. Outside the city, highways were cut by flood waters.

The 32-hour rain which began Saturday evening had pelted the city with 6.21 inches of rain early this morning when it stopped. Unofficial measurements in some localities indicated as much as 10 inches of fall.

Other torrential rains dealt devastating blows to communities in northern Illinois and northern Indiana during the weekend.

Surprisingly, only one death occurred which appeared to have resulted from the flooding in the Chicago area. Patrick McNichols, 51, was found lying in three feet of water in his flooded basement apartment apparently the victim of a heart seizure.

The bulk of the damage resulted from the over-brimming of the Chicago River in the area just west of the Loop. There, water spilled into the basements and sub-basements of the Union Station, inundating tracks and bringing operations of four railroads to a halt.

Operations at the Dearborn Station, curtailed Sunday and Sunday night by water, were restored to normal today.

Train passengers whose normal destination was the Union Station were forced to detrain either at outlying stations or at other downtown terminals. The four railroads using the Union Station are the Burlington, the Milwaukee, the Pennsylvania and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio.

Arrivals and departures at the Dearborn Station were blocked by the flood from 6 p.m. Sunday night until this morning. The roads affected were the Santa Fe, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Grand Trunk-Canadian National, the Monon, the Chicago and Western Indiana, and the Erie.

The Chicago and North Western Railroad made its unaffected depot available for trains of the Milwaukee Road.

The inundating rain was not foreseen by weather forecasters. It came in the form of a continuous 18-hour downpour, a drizzly

Fog Turns To Rain In Upper Peninsula

Cracking fog horns were heard over most of the Peninsula during the weekend as light to dense fog smothered the area. The fog got steadily thicker until it turned to rain Sunday afternoon.

About a half an inch of rain fell during the last 24 hours, just a few drops short of October of last year when a record dry spell occurred.

The 30-day area forecast for the Upper Peninsula called for cool weather. So far it has held close to the predictions.

Seasonable temperatures are holding steady throughout the country with the southern bank of states averaging 50-70 and the northern tier in the 30-40 range.

Hurricane Hazel has changed direction and is now moving northwest toward Haiti. Shipping in the path of rampaging Hazel has been warned that the storm still packs a vicious punch.

Arctic Reveals Secrets Of Early Eskimo Culture

WASHINGTON—Remains of the largest settlement yet found of the ancient and little known Dorset people of the Canadian Arctic have been uncovered by an archaeological expedition to the southeast coast of Southampton Island in Hudson Bay, Dr. John Oliver La Gorce, President of the National Geographic Society, announced today.

Nearby, a second impressive site consisting of the ruins of 100 huts turned out to be the home of the Sadlermiut who lived hundreds of years after the Dorsets. The Sadlermiut died out, presumably from typhus, only in 1903.

The recently returned expedition was sponsored by the National Geographic Society, the National Museum of Canada, and the Smithsonian Institution. An Arctic veteran, Dr. Henry B. Collins of the Smithsonian, was the leader.

Unanswered Question
A wealth of relics was dug from piles of debris scattered over 20 acres at the Dorset site and from the Sadlermiut house ruins. One tantalizing question remained unanswered: What happened to the Dorset people? No burial grounds

Almost Half Of Soo Tech Students From Soo Vicinity

SAULT STE. MARIE — Chippewa county students make up 48.5% of this fall's total enrollment at the Sault Branch of Michigan Tech, Harry L. Crawford, resident director, has announced.

Late registrations during the past week have brought the enrollment up to 336 students, an increase of 19.6% over the figure of last year. The increase is indicative of a trend, according to the resident director, which is expected to continue for the next several years.

There are 127 students from Sault Ste. Marie and 37 from other communities within Chippewa county.

A 26-county area which includes Chippewa county supplies 71.1% of this year's students, Crawford stated. The area includes Mackinac, Luce, Schoolcraft, and Alger counties in the Upper Peninsula and 21 counties in the upper half of the Lower Peninsula.

The rest of this year's Tech students come from lower Michigan, other states, and Ontario, Canada, with one student registered from Seoul, Korea.

All together there are 85 Michigan towns represented on the campus at the present time.

Clean Overcoats For Winter Season

by Melton McGovern, Graduate of National Institute of Dry Cleaning.

IF YOU DIDN'T HAVE YOUR OVERCOAT CLEANED LAST SPRING AND STORED DURING THE SUMMER IN A DUST - PROOF WRAPPING, YOU OUGHT TO HAVE IT CLEANED NOW.

First thing you know, there will be cold weather and you'll start wearing it again.

And then you'll feel like you shouldn't let it go to the cleaners because you might have to do without it.

Well, there's a lot of "human nature" in this kind of behavior. But the fact is that few of us buy a new overcoat oftener than once every few years, overcoats being garments which are made to last . . . and last.

Bearing that fact in mind, remember that a garment which is cleaned often will outwear one that isn't by a wide margin.

Your freshly cleaned overcoat will therefore not only look better, it will wear better. Think of last year's grime still in the fabric, and all of last summer's dust added to that. And you'll get a good idea of how many "miles" or "hours" of reduced wear it's threatened with.

So gather up last winter's duds, and any other clothes that need cleaning or spotting, put the bundle all together and

41 Join Guard In September

Forty-one Upper Peninsula young men including 23 from Delta and Schoolcraft counties joined the 107th Engineer Battalion of the Michigan National Guard in the month of September.

Lt. Col. Leonard C. Ward, the battalion commander, announced this record for 1954, but added that the average monthly recruitment this year has been over 20 men for the five companies located at Ishpeming, Calumet, Marquette, Escanaba and Manistique.

Escanaba's Company C accepted 18 enlistments during the month for a major portion of the battalion gain. The other companies reported as follows: B, Marquette, 9; H&S, Ishpeming, 6; D, Manistique, 5; and A, Calumet, 3.

Eight of the forty one new Guardsmen are veterans of active service in the Army, Marines and Navy.

Training Valuable

Losses were normal and reduced net gain to 26 for the month. Change of residence for employment reason, transfer for employment reasons, enlistment in the regular services, and incompatible occupation are the principal reasons for losses.

"Young men are beginning to realize the value of basic and advanced training with their local National Guard whether they plan to join the active Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines at a later date, or whether they wish to prepare for a possible involuntary call for federal service," Ward said.

"It pays off and we receive many letters from former members telling us so," he added.

The officer commented that parents now appreciate service in the Michigan National Guard as a worthwhile spare-time activity for their sons, 17 years of age and over.

Most gratifying, he said, are the favorable reactions of parents concerning progress by their sons in leadership qualities, discipline, bearing, pride in appearance, as well as specific related civilian skills.

"The 20 per cent increase in the total strength of the 107th Engineers so far this year reflects the superior ratings earned by the companies in training and in manner of performance," he added.

"We know the ratings are deserved when our men re-enlist themselves and bring their friends into the 107th Engineers."

Escanaba Enlistments

"The basic reason for the stand-out success of the National Guard is that men are proud to serve the United States and the State of Michigan in a unit which maintains high standards."

Enlistments at Escanaba: James C. Miller (veteran), 507 Superior Ave., Gladstone; Louis B. Fine (transfer), 1705 30th Ave., Menominee; John L. Hardwick (veteran), 309 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone; Marcel L. LaChapelle (veteran), 803 N. 19th St.; Albert Willette (veteran), 1502 Michigan Ave., Gladstone; Earl E. Anderson, 1021 8th Ave. S.; Robert L. Blizzeau, 1115 Montana Ave., Gladstone; George S. Cavadeas, 1406 1/2 Ludington St.; John J. Cody and Ronald E. Cody, 315 N. 11th St.; Frank J. Lundberg, Ensign; Robert B. Madalinski, Route 1, Bark River; Ivan S. Majestic, Ensign; Jerome W. McCaulough, Harris; Archie J. Megenugh Jr., Harris; Robert F. Rodgers, 1715 1/2 3rd Ave. N.; James F. Weiks, Ensign.

Manistique's new men: John L. Sheppard (veteran), Route 1, Tannery Location; John W. Davidson, Route 2; Larry L. Patz, 205 N. 2nd St.; Gary J. Weber, Route 1; Henry W. Weimert, Star Route.

Delegates of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan will reconvene at Holy Innocents' Church at the Little Lake conference center at 10:30 Tuesday morning, Oct. 12, to discuss designation of a diocesan center and cathedral site.

Yelland of Marquette. Since the diocesan convention, the committee has investigated facilities at Marquette, Menominee, Escanaba and Iron Mountain and interviewed respective vestries. Its report will be made and studied Tuesday at Little Lake.

Whether action will be taken by the reconvened delegates depends on what recommendations are made by the committee and the general nature of its report. The convention is empowered to either accept or reject the report, it was pointed out.

$125 ZENITH HEARING AID BETTER BUY THAN AIDS AVERAGING $268!

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE that the Zenith—priced at less than 1/2 as much—offers equivalent performance for 1/2 the average operating and upkeep cost!

United States Testing Company, Inc.
(America's foremost private, independent testing laboratory)
Reveals Significant Facts About Hearing Aid Quality and Prices!

ZENITH "ROYAL-T"	BRAND "A"	BRAND "B"	BRAND "C"	BRAND "D"	BRAND "E"
$125.00	$268.00	$268.00	$268.00	$268.00	$268.00

average price of these other five makes. Individual prices range from $229.50 to $295.00!

ZENITH has always said you can pay up to $300 or more but you can't buy a finer hearing aid than a Zenith. To support this statement, Zenith requested the United States Testing Company to purchase on the open market two Zenith Hearing Aids and two of each of America's five foremost competitive brands of transistor hearing aids, and to test them thoroughly.

Each of the instruments was subjected to a series of rigorous tests for quality, performance and economy. The results, contained in Report No. E-9158, dated September 13, 1954, tell us:

1. Despite the huge difference in price, U. S. Testing Company reported, "The Zenith 'Royal-T' was equal to the other 5 brands in design, choice of materials and components, and in workmanship."

2. Here's how Zenith compared with the average of the other five brands in bringing you a full measure of acoustic power performance:

Acoustic output	ZENITH	135.5 db.
	OTHERS	132 db.
Maximum acoustic gain	ZENITH	64 db.
	OTHERS	60.8 db.
Earphone acoustic output	ZENITH	131 db.
	OTHERS	131.1 db.

3. The 3-transistor Zenith "Royal-T" cost $18.93 less to operate per year than the average of the other aids tested.

4. The Zenith "Royal-T" registered less objectionable noise due to clothing rub than any of the other five brands.

5. Based on a five-year overall cost projection—involving initial price, battery replacements, etc.—the $125 Zenith "Royal-T" will serve you for substantially less than 1/2 the cost of the average competitive aid.

You can try the "Royal-T" at home, work, church, theatre, anywhere, on Zenith's famous 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee. One tiny 15¢ battery operates the "Royal-T" for 30 days.

And here's important news! Zenith has recently introduced the smallest, lightest hearing aid in its history—the tiny, tubeless, 3-transistor "Royal-M." Only $100! Same power and performance as the "Royal-T." Prices include air conduction receiver and stock earmold.

President Steps Up Tempo Of Campaign, Points To Good Record

IN next November's elections, a central figure will be a man who isn't running for office—Dwight D. Eisenhower. He is obviously the GOP's principal asset. And it is on his policies and philosophy of government that the Democrats must center much of their fire.

At one time there was a feeling in Republican ranks that the President wasn't aggressive enough. It was widely said that he wasn't doing much of a job in pushing his ambitious legislative program. In some respects his press relations weren't too happy. Some Congressmen of his party had about decided that he wouldn't be of noticeable help to them at home, and that they'd better attend to their own political fence-building without reference to the White House.

A very great change has taken place in a comparatively short time. For one thing, the President showed an ability to learn from mistakes and not to repeat them. He demonstrated an unusual flair for getting things done quietly, without issuing "must" order after "must" order. And the upshot was that, to the surprise of even canny old hands at the political game, a remarkably large part of the legislation he asked for became law.

Some proposals, naturally, were turned down or deferred. Others were modified. That was inevitable with a program which was so broad, so complex and, in many cases, so controversial. But the record shows that few Presidents have had so high a batting average in a mere two years.

Here, in part, is what the Administration, in cooperation with the 83rd Congress, obtained.

The tax code was thoroughly overhauled for the first time in 75 years. Substantial tax reductions were given to both individuals and to business. And, though the goal of a balanced budget hasn't been reached, material reductions in the overall cost of government were effected.

The defense program was given a "new look," based largely on atomic weapons, which is designed to produce more defense for each dollar spent.

The St. Lawrence Seaway was approved. This was a considerable victory, in view of the fact that Presidents Truman, Roosevelt, Hoover, Coolidge, Harding and Wilson had all advocated it without success.

A program for developing atomic energy for peacetime purposes is underway, using the resources of private enterprise as well as those of government.

A system of flexible farm price supports was adopted. In the view of many, including a number of farm leaders and spokesmen, this is a vital start toward a sounder agricultural policy.

Social Security benefits were extended.

These are simply high spots. As a general principle, the Administration has consistently urged that the federal government should not take on duties that can be discharged either by local government or by private enterprise. It has moved to reduce government intervention in commercial business.

Some Congressional contests will be dominated by local issues and emotions. Aside from those, the key to this off-year election is pretty largely the personality, philosophy, and program of the President.

The Doctor Says...

Vitamin B-12 Is Highly Effective in Anemia Cases

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A notable medical triumph is that over the disease known as pernicious anemia. Until about 1926 people who were ill with this disease eventually died from it, and the average duration of life was only a little over three years after the onset.

Today, death from pernicious anemia, if the diagnosis is made reasonably prompt and the proper treatment employed, is exceedingly rare.

The remarkable improvement in outlook for pernicious anemia victims is due principally to the fundamental observations and dog experiments of Whipple, Minot, Murphy and Castle, although knowledge has continued to advance with the investigations of others.

THIS DISEASE is not caused by overwork, as one correspondent appears to think. Put in as simple terms as possible, the cause of pernicious anemia is now considered to be the result of a deficiency of certain important elements in the diet. This in turn, leads to a slowing down in the production of new red blood cells, and since these cells continue to die at the regular rate of speed an anemia or blood lack gradually develops.

THIS IS NOT the whole story, of course, since the disease is associated with changes in the stomach and often the liver. Nevertheless, the discovery that in essence pernicious anemia is a dietary deficiency led first to its treatment with liver or liver extracts.

The development of a substance known as crystalline vitamin B-12 is now of highest value in treatment. When given in the right quantities and fairly early in the disease, vitamin B-12, sometimes combined with liver or other substances, is highly effective.

PERHAPS THIS DOES not seem so remarkable to the average reader, but to the medical man—especially one who can remember the fate of a person with pernicious anemia before the introduction of liver treatment—it constitutes a proud record, and particularly because the disease was described and set apart as long ago as 1855 by the famous English physician, Thomas Addison.

Following this for nearly 75 years, the disease could be recognized and accurately diagnosed, but nothing more could be done for it than Addison could do. When I started my medical training pernicious anemia was a fatal disease; when I finished it could be treated with a high degree of success!

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The most important piece of political information today which can have a decided influence on the outcome of the congressional elections is related to the attitude of the stay-at-home voters.

This affects both parties. Hence the political organization which can get to the polls the larger number of stay-at-home voters with a predilection toward that party can win the election.

Scientific surveys made in areas where voters were interviewed both before and after election substantiate the fact that stay-at-home voters often overbalance those who switch from one party to the other.

MANY NON-VOTERS

Thus, field representatives of the Bureau of Applied Research of Columbia University did a concentrated study on Erie County, Ohio, with particular reference to the hotly contested Willkie-Roosevelt election in 1940. The findings read in part as follows:

"Non-voting is a serious problem in a democracy. It is therefore worthwhile to look at these non-voters somewhat more closely. The great majority of them were deliberate non-voters; in October during the last interview before election, 29 per cent intended to vote and knew for whom they would vote, seven per cent intended to vote but did not yet know for whom, and 64 per cent did not intend to vote. In other words, two out of three cases of non-voting were intentional and premeditated, according to the voters' own statements. But even in the other groups there were some non-voters who resembled the premeditated ones . . .

"As a net result, three-quarters of the non-voters stayed away from the polls deliberately because they were thoroughly unconcerned with the election . . . Only a small number of people were kept from the polls by a last minute emergency.

FEW ARE CONVERTED

The widespread fallacy that many people switch from one party to the other during a campaign is dealt with on the basis of research results by the Columbia survey as follows:

"The notion that the people who switch parties during the campaign are mainly the reasoned, thoughtful, conscientious people who were convinced by the issues of the election is just plain wrong. Actually, they were mainly the opposite . . . Some people were converted by campaign propaganda but they were few indeed . . .

"In summary, then, the people who did most of the reading and listening not only read and heard most of their own partisan propaganda but were the most resistant to conversion because of their strong predispositions. And the people who were most open to conversion—the ones the campaign managers most wanted to reach—read and listened least. Those inter-related facts represent the bottleneck of conversion."

U. OF M. SURVEY

Another scientific study made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan analyzed the 1948 and 1952 presidential elections, and found that in 1952, while party allegiance was a strong factor in the Democratic vote, it was less important in the Republican vote. Issues such as Korea and corruption were mentioned more frequently than the personality of the candidate. The survey says:

"The much lower reference to traditional party allegiance on the part of the Eisenhower supporters in 1952 no doubt derived in part from the fact that a large proportion of Eisenhower's support came from the people who had previously been Democratic supporters or non-voters."

What often confuses the picture is the conspicuous fact that Stevenson, though losing in 1952, actually polled more votes than had been received by either a Republican or Democratic candidate in any previous presidential election, with the exception of 1936. But Stevenson got only 44.3 per cent of the whole vote.

Thus, the total vote may remain the same or may even increase for each party but the percentages tell the story. Truman got 50.1 per cent of the vote in Ohio in 1948 and carried the state. Taft two years later got 57.5 per cent of the vote, yet the total vote was about the same as in 1948. It has been fantastically assumed that 200,000 Truman Democrats just switched to Taft, but the truth would seem to be that these Democrats who had voted for Truman stayed at home in 1950, while the Republicans got out 200,000 of their indifferent vote.

This is corroborated by the 1952 result when Mike Di Salle, the defeated candidate, polled 349,000 more votes than the Democratic nominee for the Senate in 1950 and about 111,000 more than Truman did in 1948.

Meanwhile, Senator Bricker in 1952 picked up 233,000 more votes than Taft got in 1950 and about 433,000 more votes than Dewey got in 1948.

A critic says that American poets have one fault in common. We know—writing poems.

Good houses are made by good carpenters and good homes by good marriages.

The expense of it caused some folks to pass up vacation trips this year. They wound up with a big roll instead of a loaf.

Eisenhower Boys Are Doing OK In President's Famed Footsteps

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The young Eisenhower boys are stepping right along in the President's famed footsteps these days.

Son John is about to turn an important corner in his career toward becoming a general.

And grandson, six-year-old Dwight David, is proving himself every inch the diplomat and polished gentleman his granddaddy like is.

Major John Eisenhower and his family are currently spending a couple of weeks with the grandparents in the White House.

The other day David was being coached on how to accept the gift of a drum. White House aides were setting it up as a major production for the TV cameras, newsreels and the newspaper photographers.

Actually, it was a pretty complicated part for young David to play. After accepting the gift he had to present smaller drums to his sisters, Barbara Ann, 5, and Susan Elaine, 2, and Richard Snyder, 7, grandson of the President's doctor.

The aide who was coaching David felt that the lad was not paying attention to the instructions. "Let me run through it once more David," he said. "to make sure you've got it all straight."

"Oh, you don't have to," David said quietly, "I know exactly what to do."

He promptly repeated the instructions perfectly. And the actual presentation came off without a hitch.

David's attractive mother, Barbara, had to squelch young David's earlier eagerness to have his picture taken.

Not long after Ike's election to the Presidency arrangements had been made to get some pictures of Barbara in her home, and several photographers had gathered in the living room. But before Barbara was ready young David sneaked through the kitchen door, went to the center of the room, struck a Napoleonic pose and announced: "All right, men, I am ready to have my picture taken."

He was whisked out in a hurry by his blushing mother.

Major Eisenhower is getting two weeks off between a duty transfer to spend some time with his parents. He's also doing some work for the White House staff on various military, diplomatic and security matters while other members of the staff are on vacation.

The 32-year-old Major's next assignment is the famed Army's Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans. The course there is considered the first major supplement to his military education he received at West Point.

The Army doesn't send officers to Ft. Leavenworth who haven't proved by performance that they are capable of becoming generals some day. The consensus of men who have served with John is that he has more than proved himself of general officer caliber, like his dad.

They also insist that the Army has leaned over backwards in its treatment of John to make sure he had not had preferential treatment because of being the son of the President.

A colonel who served with John

THE PRESIDENT AND SON JOHN: The 32-year-old Major is about to turn a big corner on the road to becoming a general.

in the Third Division in Korea says:

"John was a very quiet and modest man. But he was also one of the most capable and efficient officers in the division. We never had to worry for a moment that he wouldn't carry out an assignment. And he was just as good at commanding troops as he was an intelligence officer."

Since being back in the States John has commanded a demonstration battalion at the Army's Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga. He put his men through various maneuvers and exercises there for the instruction of the students in the school.

At Benning Barbara and John were reunited with several old friends whom they have known from duty at other posts. They occupied the same three-bedroom type quarters on the base assigned to all majors. Their chief entertainment was bridge and having friends over for dinner.

John, like his dad, has a couple of favorite recipes he likes to prepare for guests. He's pretty good on the piano and can be coaxed into some healthy singing as the evening wears on.

The young Eisenhowers took in stride the need for having Secret Service men around their house all the time. The children referred to the SS men as "uncle". And John got in the habit of taking them golfing with him.

John's golf, incidentally, is not up to his dad's consistent, accurate game. He hasn't been playing too long and had a tendency to wildness.

John and Barbara also have a host of friends in Washington. They manage to get around a lot while in town because they have no baby-sitting problems here. They find it quite pleasant and convenient to have that chore taken care of by the President of the United States and the First Lady of the Land.

So They Say

A woman who is 100 per cent perfect as a sweetheart, homemaker or worker is not enough for a man these days. . . . She must be a perfect manager, a world affairs expert and a dream girl.—French designer Lilly Dache.

Simple arithmetic shows that if the USSR continues to build and buy maritime power at the present rate we must either accelerate our own building program or run the risk of falling behind.—Adm. Robert Carney.

The integrity of the FHA has been restored.—President Eisenhower.

I defy anyone to show me that it is possible to be for Ike and for (Joseph T.) Meek—Adlai Stevenson.

A man's reputation is one of his most prized possessions. To blemish that reputation by unverified allegations of disloyalty is to do grave injustice.—FBI Director Hoover.

I have confidence in the (Senate Censure) Committee. Therefore the committee's recommendations (to censure Sen. Joseph McCarthy) carry a great deal of weight.—Sen. Edward Thye (R., Minn.).

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—U. S. Army Provost Marshal Gen. William Maglin was in Europe recently on an inspection tour and happened to attend a reception in Vienna. Present was the Russian provost marshal of the district and they began talking through an interpreter.

They were discussing technical police matters when General Maglin suggested that the Russian officer might want to attend a meeting of the international association of chiefs of police which was going to be held in the U. S.

"What kind of a trick is this meeting, anyway?" the Russian asked suspiciously.

Maglin explained that it was no trick, that the association was a very old and respected organization. The Red provost marshal became very interested.

"Do you think I could really attend?" he asked.

"Of course, if you can make it," Maglin assured him.

At that the interpreter whispered something in the Red officer's ear which made him turn white. Without saying a word he turned on his heel and left the reception.

THERE HAS BEEN a great deal of criticism because the Russian news agency, Tass, has been allowed to have reporters travel around Washington freely and get in on anything available to U. S. newsmen.

However, at the recent press conference held by Atomic Energy Commission head, Lewis L. Strauss, which permitted newsmen in the building in a large group for the first time in months, no Tass man bothered to show up.

IN THE OUTER OFFICE of the Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott there hangs on the wall an elaborate three-dimensional plan of the new Air Force Academy. It shows all of the buildings and the landing field which were originally planned for the new Air Force school.

The only trouble with that plan is that it must be completely revised for the mountainous terrain of the Denver, Colo., site. The architect who did the job assumed that the location would be flat.

One of the Air Force's problems in connection with the new school is getting enough young men of high caliber to apply for admission in the first class which will begin in temporary quarters next fall.

THE FOLLOWING letter was received by the U. S. Information Service Library in Rangoon from 11-year-old Teddy Thang Chin explaining how he happened to lose one of the library's books:

"On my way home from the library Communist insurgents appeared. They overturned my bag and examined carefully. When they found that book, some 'Free Worlds,' and my membership card, they barked at me saying that I was a little handle boy of Americans.

"Then a man hit me with his rifle pipe and shouted. They searched all over my body and at last, taking my bag, book, gold ring, gold shirt button and fountain pen, they went away. When I reached town I got tyoid. That is why I could not report to you early.

"So I sorrowfully report to you. I hope that you will pardon me and will not kick me out of your library."

He was not kicked out.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA experts are waging a new grassroots campaign to try to stamp out religion in Russian villages.

According to a recent Soviet Home Service broadcast the Presidium of the Administration of the All-Union Society for the Dissemination of Political and Scientific Knowledge is directing it.

Teachers, doctors and agriculturalists have been singled out to do the job. Special lectures are being held in Moscow during October. Seminars will also be conducted, the broadcast said. "In order to train lecturers' cadres for scientific atheistic propaganda."

IN A QUIET CHECK on the security of members of the Cabinet Civil Defense officials discovered that Secretary of Agriculture Benson is the best prepared for enemy attack.

His home has a bomb shelter in the basement and it is shielded with dozens of cans of homemade peaches, pears and apricot juice. There's also a bag of Canadian wheat and one of Idaho beans.

Agnes Argyle's eyes were cloudy with a review of the past, with a search for some point at which to begin. They brightened at last with decision. "You've seen the 'Carlson Conscience,' the framed relic. It wasn't in the glass case when I was a child. Not when Father was alive. He believed in that creed, inscribed now on the case, and he practiced it. He was a tyrant whose word was irrevocable law. And the slightest breach brought punishment."

Agnes licked her thin dry lips as if tasting the bitterness. Her strong hands clenched and unclenched, yet the monotone of her voice did not change, as her words provided a commentary on her mental pictures of the past.

"We had it well drummed into us that the only law was the Carlson word. Everyone has something, some power they feel they must answer to. With us it was the Carlson law, represented by my father at this time. Noting higher, and no appeal."

"I started running away from home in my very early teens. Not with any hope of escape, but with desperation. I was caught and brought back. Father whipped me. I used to pray that he would die. Finally he did, and I thought things would be better. They were, in a way. Mother—Mrs. Oswald—never actually used the whip on us. She had it framed. We had been taught so well and the threat was enough. Most of the time. But when I was 17 I ran away again. I had planned well and I had help. Toby. My husband. We were married and I was pregnant by the time we were found. Mrs. Oswald washed her hands of me. But she told me I'd never break away completely, that I'd always remember my early 'training.' I remembered."

"And then our little girl was born. Times were hard for us and Toby was sick. It wasn't his fault, it wasn't mine." She looked up at Jim then. "We came to terms with Mrs. Oswald, turned our baby over to her."

"Why?" Jim demanded.

"Many reasons," Agnes said. "They seemed to be good reasons then. I don't know. I think perhaps I would do the same thing under the same circumstances. Yet you're right. It isn't easy for a woman to give up her first child. But my brother Hilton had married by then, married with Mrs. Oswald's blessing. The baby, Angelica, was to be brought up as their own. She was to have all the benefits of the Carlson money. I thought my brother would be kind, thought he had suffered enough. And Toby needed an operation so desperately. Mrs. Oswald was right on hand with the money—provided. The alternative? Nothing. Nothing. Maybe she didn't mean it. Maybe she would have helped. I don't think so. And Angelica would have everything I realized Toby and I were never going to be able to give. I—I made the deal."

"I thought I was doing right at the time, and for a while, for almost 10 years, everything seemed to be working out. I thought I had done right, that my love for Toby and, yes, my actual fear of the Carlsons, had led me into doing the right thing. But after that 10 years, Mrs. Hilton had a son. That's Peter. Before, Angelica had been brought up as a true child, made over, maybe spoiled. Peter's birth made a difference."

The simple statement brought up a vivid picture of heartbreak.

"When did Angelica find out you were her mother?"

Tears started running unheeded and unchecked down Sheriff Agnes' face. "She never knew. Somehow I can't bear that. I thought I had all my emotions killed, every feeling so deeply buried I'd never let things touch me; not to show. I was even able to do my official duties without it—showing."

"Do you know who poisoned her?"

"She says I did. I don't know. Maybe I did at that. Last night I brought her up a cup of chocolate, last thing. She likes it sweet. I put extra sugar in it from the bowl in the kitchen. She says that's where the arsenic came from."

Mrs. Kit was in her bedroom, pacing the floor while Sue Gelstrap overflowed a small dressing table chair, when Jim obeyed a called summons to "Come in."

"How's Mrs. Oswald?" Mrs. Gelstrap asked.

"She'll live," Jim said curtly. "But it's time now for some facts."

"What do you mean?" Mrs. Kit demanded.

"I think you know what I mean. I want the truth about the relationship between you and Mrs. Gelstrap."

"All right," Kit said defiantly. "It's nothing to be ashamed of. We're sisters."

"Stepsisters," Mrs. Gelstrap corrected wheezily. "And we're living proof that stepsisters do get along. Kit was always the pretty one."

"But you have the brains, Sue," Kit said.

Mrs. Gelstrap accepted that as the equal truth to the fact that Mrs. Kit had the beauty. "I got fat in my teens," she went on. "Glands or something. But Kit and I always got along. We never fought like members of some families. We made plans. We decided on what we wanted in life. We made plans to get it."

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Eight-year-old Ann Dexter decided she wanted her own flower garden this year and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dexter, were happy to let their daughter go down to the store and pick out her own seed.

Ann couldn't explain how she got the cotton seeds but she's waiting anxiously now to harvest the crop.

Illegal Coffee Deals Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today charged the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange has unlawfully restrained international trade in coffee and thereby "promoted substantial increases" in prices.

The complaint named the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., four of its officers and eight of its members, and also the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Assn., Inc.

The FTC said, in announcing the complaint, it was a followup to the economic study of the coffee market made by FTC last spring.

In its report on this study, the FTC said last July that the sharp increases in coffee prices during 1953 and early 1954 "cannot be explained in terms of the competitive laws of supply and demand."

A complaint issued by the FTC is answerable before the commission itself. In the normal course, a hearing is held and the commission then makes a decision as to whether the charges have been substantiated.

If it decides the charges are true, the commission can order a defendant to cease the alleged illegal practices.

3 Teenagers Admit Possession Of Beer

Three teenagers pleaded guilty and one pleaded not guilty when arraigned Saturday on charges of possessing beer in an automobile.

Donald Miller, 19, Harold Gray, 19, both of Cooks and Patsy Maki, 17, Escanaba, pleaded guilty to Justice Ranguette and each paid fines of $15 and costs of $5. Lawrence Shanahan entered a plea of not guilty and will have a hearing this week.

The teenagers were apprehended by State Police Friday night near Bark River and lodged in the Delta County jail overnight. Two minors were also involved and their case has been turned over to the probate court.

Briefly Told

Fined For Posting—John Shandoy of Gladstone today pleaded guilty in Justice Caroline A. Nyström's court to a charge of illegally posting bills on telephone poles in Escanaba, in violation of a city ordinance, and paid a fine of $10 and $4 costs.

Boys Borrow Bus

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two teenage riders asked bus driver Frank Gallagher what time his bus would leave the terminal.

Gallagher replied there would be a five-minute wait. Then he went into the washroom. When he returned the young riders were gone and so was the bus.

Fifteen minutes later the bus was discovered three miles away, its motor still running. It was sitting at a corner on its regular route.

DO-IT-YOURSELF HOUSING — The "do-it-yourself" craze is creating a better life for thousands of Puerto Ricans now living in slum-type homes. The Commonwealth's government relocates slum dwellers on nearby subdivisions where water, lights and streets are provided. Each family gets a 300-square-meter lot. Then they move their modest homes onto the free plot of ground and in their spare time with the help of neighbors and local government, they

Windsor Ford Workers Strike

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A strike by 5,700 workers shut down the Ford Motor Co. plant here today as union and company officials vowed they would not budge in a dispute over a new contract.

The United Automobile Workers Union (CIO-Canadian Congress of Labor) called their members off the job Sunday night, a few hours after three days of contract talks broke down.

About 700 pickets converged on the plant, the biggest industry in this motor city of 120,000 across the Detroit River from the Michigan metropolis. There was no trouble.

At issue is a union demand for an 11-cent economic package.

The company has refused to alter present wage scales but has offered to incorporate an eight cents cost-of-living allowance to the base rates.

The present average wage is $1.69 an hour. The company says fringe benefits bring this to $2.04 an hour.

Sloppy Drivers Being Eliminated By Michigan Law

Foundation and National Safety Council.

Crackdowns Prompt

There are two main prongs to the system, Cleary said.

One is a driver examining system staffed by civil service employees. It calls in motorists who pile up a bad record of violations and accidents, suspends or revokes their licenses, or warns them another slip will be costly.

The other prong is the central violations file, which will start operating by the end of this year. Cleary said a new filing system will be installed to facilitate handling the records of more than 3,250,000 drivers in a way never possible before in Michigan.

The file will permit an instant check on all drivers and prompt crackdowns on them when their violation records reach the danger point.

Also, Cleary said, it will be available to examining officers when motorists apply for renewal of their licenses.

Michigan, Cleary said, will then have "as good control over the bad drivers as any state in the country."

Hurricane Threatens Republic Of Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel swung slowly into a critical position today where for the first time large land areas were under direct threat from the violent, 6-day-old storm.

The giant tropical disturbance changed course from its previous westnorthwesterly path and struck off northeast during the night. It was moving slowly, at only about 8 miles an hour, with peak winds of 115 miles an hour whirling around its center.

Monday it was 750 miles southeast of Miami.

The Negro Republic of Haiti on the island of Hispanola, which Haiti shares with the Dominican Republic, was under direct threat.

The hurricane's northeasterly course would place Florida in the clear if it is continued. A swing back to its old northwesterly course would bring a storm alert to Florida.

Trains Run Late

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Heavy rains in the Chicago area Sunday delayed passenger and freight train movements over the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroads lines in Western Michigan. Passenger trains between Grand Rapids and Chicago were 45 minutes to an hour late. Water rose above the tracks near Whiting, Ind.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dropped today after a somewhat higher start.

Gains and losses were rather narrow and spread out over a range of around a point in the early afternoon.

At the start, trading was vigorous with many large blocks on the tape. The pace slowed thereafter but it still was a bit better than two million for the entire day. Friday's volume was 2,120,000 with the market a shade lower on balance.

Steels and oils started out higher, but both divisions soon ran into moderate selling that cut gains down and produced some losers.

Aircrafts were generally lower as were chemicals. Railroads and utilities remained steady. Airlines were unchanged to higher.

Advancing stocks included Granite City Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Phelps Dodge, U. S. Pipe & Foundry, Bayview Cigars, Mission Corp. and Royal Dutch Petroleum.

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, American Tobacco, San Fe, and Texas Co.

U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were quietly unchanged to lower.

ON THE TRUNK LINE—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower pays a visit to the campaign headquarters of Mrs. Ellen Harris in Denver, Colo. Mrs. Harris is the Republican candidate for the House of Representatives, and her headquarters is a bus, decorated to resemble the GOP elephant.

Biggest Elephant Hunt In History Is Under Way

WASHINGTON — One of the biggest elephant hunts in history is underway in southeast Africa.

Three neighboring states—South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, and Bechuanaland—are cooperating to remove the menace of rogue herds that have terrorized farmers, tribesmen and cattle, and destroyed homes.

Professionals, not sportsmen, are carrying out the assignment. Discipline of the elephants rather than trophies is the goal. Hence as few animals as possible will be killed in the drive to get them under control and back into reservation areas.

Protecting life and property while preserving Africa's declining elephant herds is a perennial problem for the continent's authorities, says the National Geographic Society. From time to time, the situation becomes acute as the giant marauders trek in search of food, water, or perhaps merely for a change.

Flee Drought, Hunters

In 1951 and '52, hundreds of thirsty elephants stomped through Kenya on their way from the drought-ridden interior toward the east-central coast. This year the British protectorate is being attacked from the opposite direction as the beasts flee from ivory hunters in sparsely settled coastal Somaliland.

Invading elephants in recent years have raided farms only a few miles outside Lourenço Marques, the capital of Portugal's Mozambique on the southeast African shore.

Farther south, the remnants of South Africa's prized Adde elephants, kept in a reservation near Port Elizabeth, have long felt the wandering urge — to the detriment of farmers' fields.

An electric fence was built around Adde National Park in the late 1940's, but it was no barrier to restless pachyderms. With their powerful tusks they soon uprooted the posts. So a stronger fence was devised, made of portions of streetcar rails sunk deep into the ground and linked by steel cables. It has so far defied a breakthrough.

Dangerous And Playful

Elephants on the loose, prowling for food, tend to form herds ranging from a few to a hundred or more members. They are loyal followers of their leader, usually a female that has assumed leadership.

Four Young Michigan Men Start Trip By Sloop Up Amazon

MUSKEGON (AP)—Four young sailors have embarked from this Lake Michigan port on a voyage up the Amazon River in South America.

They are Charles Beaver, of Bay City, and insurance adjuster; Robert Littell, of Kalamazoo, an airplane pilot; Le Roy Bartoo, of Kalamazoo, a cosmetics manufacturer; and Wesley Wilbur, of Muskegon, a hardware salesman.

The voyage from Muskegon to the South American jungles will take the sailors to Chicago, then down the Mississippi River to the Gulf of Mexico, where they'll head for the Amazon.

The four-all World War II veterans—bought the 25-year-old sloop Sea Horse last August.

Vote Outlook Has G. O. P. Worrying

the party and Eisenhower can give them.

Party Always Loses

Knowing their edge in both houses is paper-thin, they know also that traditionally in a midterm election the party controlling Congress loses strength.

They can't afford to lose much this year without losing control of Congress.

Nine times in the 10 mid-term elections since 1914 the party with a majority in the House lost some seats. The exception was 1934 when the Democrats picked up strength. President Roosevelt, elected two years before, had just begun to get his New Deal rolling.

Three times in those 10 mid-term term elections the party controlling the House lost control of it: the Democrats lost it in 1918 (Democratic President Wilson was in the White House); the Republicans lost it in 1930, in the last half of Republican President Hoover's term; and the Democrats lost it again in 1946 when Democrat Harry Truman was president.

Eight times in those 10 mid-term elections the party controlling the Senate lost seats and twice lost control of the Senate altogether: in 1918 and 1946.

President On Spot

Eisenhower long ago, it seems, made up his mind that while he would make a few speeches this year to help his Republicans he would do it in a general way, nationally.

Vice President Nixon applauded this approach to the election problem but Joseph Martin, speaker of the House, has advocated that the President make some individual pitches for individual candidates.

By limiting himself to a general plea to the voters to elect a Republican Congress, Eisenhower can avoid going into the districts or states to plug for individuals.

If he did it for one, he'd have to do it for many. And if he skipped a state, the Democrats there no doubt would say he deliberately skipped because he didn't think much of the candidate.

If he went into a state where the Republican candidate was subsequently defeated, the Democrats could interpret that as a repudiation of Eisenhower himself.

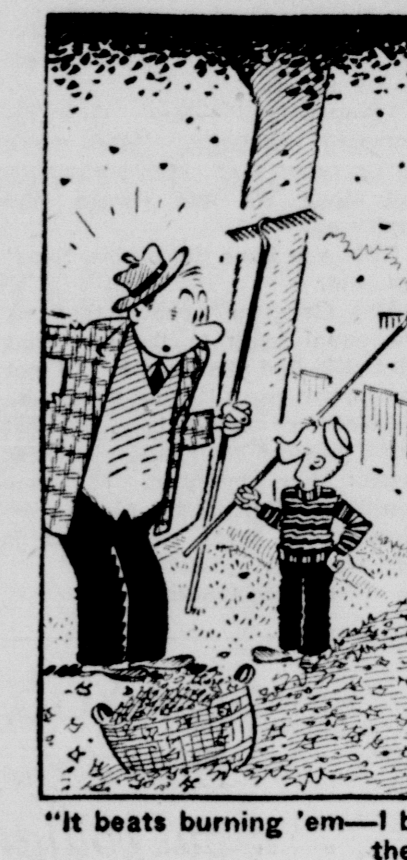

Eisenhower faces the chance of that same interpretation by the Democrats nationally if, after he repeatedly asks the voters to return a Republican Congress, the Democrats win.

Scholars Unearth Town Built 100 To 300 A.D.

WASHINGTON — From the historic soil around Caerleon on the River Usk in southwest England comes fresh archeological evidence of Roman life and influence in early Britain.

The work is going on in fields close to the already excavated ruins of the Roman legion fortress of Caerleon. Relics so far brought to light—fragments of stone homes, shops and a paved street—suggest that the find is a complete Roman settlement of more than 18 centuries ago.

Authorities say the town was probably a planned civilian community covering 100 acres and that it may have sheltered 12,000 people. There are indications it was occupied continuously from A. D. 100 to 300 or later.

The Romans built the Caerleon fortress (Isca Silurum) about A. D. 75, the National Geographic Society points out. It was one of three bases from which the legions controlled much of Britain after the full-scale invasion of A. D. 43.

Restored Amphitheater

Caerleon was the permanent headquarters of the Roman Second Legion numbering some five to six thousand men. The other two major control points were set up to the north where the modern cities of York and Chester now stand.

Architecturally, the Caerleon establishment followed the usual military design of the times—a large oblong enclosure, with rounded corners and four entrances. It contained barracks, offices, stores and a central regimental headquarters.

Although little remains of the original structures except a few foundations and stretches of exterior walls, an adjoining amphitheater that served for entertainment has been completely restored.

The near-by settlement now emerging from the fields is expected to offer an outstanding opportunity for study, since it escaped the destruction and overbuilding that occurred at other important sites as later towns grew up.

If it fulfills hopes, it will be an impressive addition to the long list of reminders of the Roman way that flourished in Britain for nearly four centuries.

Roman Roads Lasted

Roman roads can still be seen stretching across open countryside. Radiating from London, some are buried beneath highways that link modern successors of the old Latin centers.

Vestiges of Roman settlements, farms and villas, public baths, theaters, mines and military camps are scattered from the English Channel to the Roman Wall near the Scottish border. Together with museum collections, they provide tantalizing details of a civilization that developed central heating, tiled baths, mosaic floors, carved furniture and fine sculpture.

Year by year new discoveries are being made. Plowing has turned up some, like the treasure of Roman silver from the fourth century unearthed in 1942 at a Millenham, Suffolk.

Modern air surveys and photographs showing odd lines and ground formations have led to unsuspected Roman remains. So have routine building operations.

But the bombings of World War II brought the biggest surprises. The "Baedeker raids" that battered London, Canterbury, Bath, Exeter and other historic centers, uncovered many a Roman ruin that archeologists had long given up as forever sealed off below metropolitan streets and buildings.

Juvenile delinquency would decrease if parents would correct their own children as they'd like to correct the neighbors.

THE KEY PLAY: PROTECTING PARTNER'S ENTRY

Successful defense in the following deal was not "open and shut," but the key play should not have been beyond the capabilities of an experienced East.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:
South 1♣
West 2NT
North Pass
East Pass

West opened the heart jack and South won with the queen. A count of tricks—five diamonds, two hearts and one club—told South that his best chance for the fulfilling trick was in the spade suit, and so, for sound psychological reasons, he crossed to dummy with a diamond and returned the spade six. East played low, and the spade queen went to West's ace.

It did not matter what West returned, but, as it happened, he led another heart. South won and ran the diamonds, discarding two clubs. Then, hoping for the best, he led dummy's last spade. East took the king, but since he was out of hearts, the defenders were through.

Admittedly, when the first spade was led from the table it required vision and nerve for East to put up the king, second hand, from his six-card suit, but that nevertheless is what he should have done. It was obvious that successful defense depended on the heart suit, and in view of the bidding and the opening lead, what was more likely than that West had the spade ace as his only quick entry? If it was blank, that was just too bad; but East should have risked that in order to preserve West's suppositious spade ace.

With the spade king going up immediately and a heart returned, South would have been helpless against the right follow-up defense.

The double ring service was solemnized by Father Arnold Thompson at 11 a.m. Miss Jeanette Geigel sang the music of the Nuptial Mass and the hymns, "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria."

The bride's gown of white satin with a double layer of nylon net and chantilly lace trim was styled with a long fitted bodice of lace, tiny satin covered buttons, tapering sleeves and a full hoop skirt which extended into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported illusion was attached to a coronet of matching lace. She carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and pink roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Margie Stropich, a sister of the bride, Miss Janice Carlson, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Mary Ann Derkos wore identical gowns of blue and they carried cascades of rubrum lilies. The attendants' headresses of net and velvet with flower trim matched their gowns.

John McGraw of Chicago was best man and Harold Carlson, Kenneth Gunderman Jr. and Ralph Olson ushered.

Mrs. Stropich selected a gold and black street dress with beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Carlson's coat dress of princess lines was navy blue and her accessories were white. The mothers' corsages were red roses.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Vickie Little presided at the coffee service.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Lower Michigan. For going-away the bride changed into a beige wool fleece box suit with cocoa brown accessories.

Here for Wedding
The bridegroom, a corporal in the United States Marines, who recently returned from Korea, will be stationed at Quantico, Va., until he receives his discharge from the service. He is a graduate of Escanaba High School and his bride is a St. Joseph High School graduate.

All women of the community are invited to attend the classes which will be held at 7:30 each Monday evening for the next five weeks. The first two classes will meet at the Central Methodist Church. The means some people use in getting ahead in this world probably means they are getting behind in the next week.

OMAHA (P) — Remember the old popcorn wagon? One still is operating here after 54 years. The wagon first saw service in 1900, has had three owners, and now is operated by William Bly, 74, who has owned it since 1940 when he retired as a truck driver. Some of the grandchildren of patrons who bought popcorn in the early part of the century now patronize the wagon. Only change is replacement of the gasoline-operated popper with an electric one. A city fire law required it.

Among those from Gladstone who attended the pilgrimage to St. Mary's Church at Hermansville Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Constant and John Stock, Mrs. Elmer Brooks, Mrs. Wilbur Cowell, Mrs. William DeKeyser and Mark Zimmerman.

Story Of Soo Locks Told In U-M Booklet

ANN ARBOR The dramatic story of how the locks at Sault Ste. Marie were rushed to completion in 1855 is related in a booklet just published by the University of Michigan.

The 36-page booklet, written by Dr. F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections, is a part of the University's participation in the celebration of the centennial of the locks scheduled during 1955.

After tracing the early history of the Soo area, the booklet describes the discovery of iron ore in 1844 by William A. Burt on the site of the present city of Negaunee. This almost immediately increased the need for ships in Lake Superior.

Need For Canal Apparent

The rapids at Sault Ste. Marie in the St. Mary's River were a bottleneck. The need for a canal became apparent, but the U. S. Congress opposed the project until 1852 when an act was passed granting a right of way to the State of Michigan along with 750,000 acres of public land which could be given as compensation to a company which could build the canal.

At the time the bill was signed, Charles T. Harvey, western agent of the Fairbanks Seale Company of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, was in Sault Ste. Marie recuperating from an attack of typhoid fever. Harvey became interested and got his company to authorize him to proceed with plans to get favorable action by the Michigan Legislature. Harvey enlisted the aid of James F. Joy, legal counsel for the Michigan Central Railroad, in Detroit, and the Legislature passed an act in February, 1952, providing for a canal with locks 350 feet long and 70 feet wide.

Harvey urged the Fairbanks brothers to apply for the contract and they got other eastern capitalists to join them in the enterprise. Harvey broke ground on June 4, 1853. Problems of getting supplies to the Sault to last through the long winter, working in bitter cold and a cholera epidemic had to be met. But Harvey got the canal completed on schedule at a cost of $999,802.46. On May 31, 1855, the works were turned over to the superintendent appointed by the State of Michigan. The steamer Illinois passed through, bound for Lake Superior, on June 18, 1855. Later on the same day the steamer or Baltimore made the passage down to Lake Huron.

First Operated By State

"Charles T. Harvey deserves great credit for the successful completion of the task at the Sault, both as promoter of the project and as general supervisor of construction," Dr. Bald says in the booklet. "His foresight, his ingenuity, and his perseverance were important factors in getting the job done."

The state operated the Sault Canal from 1855 until 1881 when it was transferred to the United States government. Tolls were abolished, and, from that time on, all ships have passed through free of charge.

The booklet also describes the construction of other locks at the canal along with the rapid development of the iron ore traffic. Taking a look at the future, the booklet predicts "iron from the Great Lakes region will continue to burden the long ships" and "that great ocean vessels will sail through the locks."

"The prodigious achievement of Charles T. Harvey will be an inspiration to all forward-looking Americans who have faith in the future."

The booklet is attractively printed and is illustrated with pen and ink sketches. It was designed by George Lenox and Peggy Needham did the sketches. With the help of the State Department of Public Instruction, the booklet will be distributed throughout the public schools in Michigan.

Requests for single copies will be filled without charge as long as the supply lasts. The sale of the booklets in large quantities for non-educational purposes is being considered. All requests concerning the booklet should be addressed to Erich A. Walter, Assistant to the President, 2552 Administration Building, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Judge Scouts Disease Story

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Three persons complained that they had contracted trichinosis from a pork roast cut. They sued the sellers, but the Connecticut Supreme court threw the case out on the grounds that the pork had not been properly cooked. Said the court: "Many foods cannot be eaten in the state in which they are bought. One could not expect to recover x x x for the distressing effects which would follow eating pineapples without peeling them, or of a partially cooked chicken which had not been drawn."

Helpful Lions Aid Philippine Farmers

MANILA (AP)—Lions clubs of the United States have donated some $500,000 worth of trucks, tools, plows and a complete rice mill to the Philippines.

Most of the equipment has been sent to the southern island of Mindanao, where the Philippine Army is resettling those former Communist Huks who agreed to cease their rebellion and turn in their arms.

Winston Churchill Got a Big Chuckle

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The mother of Gerald Lansbaum, 13, thought the British prime minister might be interested in this sentence from an essay written by the boy on a school assignment:

"Winston Churchill is an unusual man—although he is nearly 80 years old he does the work of a man twice his age."

Churchill's secretary, acknowledging receipt of the essay, said "the prime minister was amused."

Braves Notch Fourth Straight GL Victory Over Newberry 19-13

NEWBERRY — The Gladstone Braves chalked up their fourth Great Lakes Conference victory Saturday when they defeated the Newberry Indians, 19-13, in a hard-fought gridiron battle.

The Gladstone eleven led 13-0 at half time and 19-7 until late in the game. Newberry was without the services of their star fullback, Gowan, who was ordered from the game in the second quarter because of unsportsmanslike conduct.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Braves scored on a 55-yard march featured by a 25 yard run by Walter Houghton. Capt. Tom Brewer the ball for the extra point. The score stood 13-7.

Goes 56 Yards

Taking the kickoff the Braves roared right back to score without surrendering the ball. The drive was featured by a 56-yard run by Brewer who was stopped on the 2. Quarterback Jim Sundalius scored on a keeper. Again Carlson's kick was not good.

Newberry scored its final touchdown in the last three minutes when the Gladstone backfield got its signals mixed while deep in their own territory and the ball went over the goal line where it was recovered by the Indians for a touchdown. Their try for extra point was not good.

Brewer gained 108 yards during the game. Houghton 65. Bratonia 26 and Sundalius 12. Quinn caught passes for gains of 18, 51 and 12 yards. Jack Beach got one for 12 and Brewer one for 18. Beach and Carlson averaged 37½ yards in punting. Newberry outscored Gladstone 10-7 on first downs. However the Braves held the Indians to one completed pass and intercepted two of their opponents' heaves.

Linebacking, Chuck Burton got 16 tackles. Brewer 15 and Houghton 8. Jim Sundalius called a good game and John Quinn and Jack Beach played a great game at defensive ends. Roger Lamberg and Larry Feldt were good defensively at tackle and Dick Ryan showed well at guard on offense. Roger Carlson turned in a good performance at defensive half.

Dick Schram, Leo Brunelle and George Ruwitt, Escanaba, handled the game.

went over from the 5. Roger Carlson kicked the extra point.

The Braves scored again in the second quarter when Jim Bratonia passed to end John Quinn in a play good for 51 yards and a touchdown. Carlson's kick for extra point failed.

With the start of the second half, the Braves started marching again but three 15-yard penalties slowed them down and although they made them up, left halfback Jim Bratonia fumbled and Newberry recovered and drove for 45 yards and a touchdown with halfback Puckett scoring. They ran

Eskymos Lose To Flivvers By Extra Point, 19 To 18

The Escanaba Eskymos matched the high-geared Kingsford Flivvers touchdown for touchdown here Saturday afternoon but lost by the margin of an extra point, 19-18.

Kingsford, fifth-ranked team in the Upper Peninsula last week, exploited swift backs to penetrate deep into Escanaba territory on kickoff and punt returns to dominate play in the early portion of the game. The Flivvers led 19-6 at the half.

Escanaba, continuing to show steady improvement in each game, roared back to contention in the third period in which the Eskymos scored twice. And late in the fourth quarter the Eskymos smashed to the Kingsford 18 yard line before the time clock ran out.

Flivvs Outgained

Coach Joe Milokna's Eskymos outgained Kingsford from scrimmage on the ground and in the air, 173 yards to 162, but lost three fumbles and had two passes intercepted. The Flivvers lost two fumbles and didn't lose an aerial.

Escanaba's Dale Mankske was the running star of the game, rambling 100 yards on 15 trips with the ball. Jerry Kreider set the Flivv pace with 68 yards on 13 carries.

Kingsford's ability to run back Escanaba's kicks showed up in 184 yards on returns. They used that weapon to score on the opening kickoff, Kreider taking a criss-cross handoff from Bill Counter and racing 90 yards to the goal line.

The actual difference in the score came on the try for the extra point on that touchdown. Don Spanton, Kingsford guard, split the uprights to give the Flivvs a 7-0 margin.

Zitter Blocks Punt

The Eskymos got right back in the ball game when Bob Zitter blocked a Kingsford punt on the Flivv 10-yard line. Don Dahlin and Dave Viau moved the ball to the four and Dahlin shot through for the touchdown. Dave Viau's try for the extra point missed the uprights and the score was 7-6.

Kingsford scored its second TD in the first period when Bill Worley recovered a fumble on the ing 33 yards to the Kingsford 40. Bill Bolm zeroed in end Jim Mongrain with a pass but Mongrain was blocked out and interference was ruled, moving the ball to the Kingsford 12. Mankske and Dahlin moved the ball to the two-yard line from where Viau dug into the middle of the line to score. The try for the point failed when the pass from center was missed. The score was 19-12, Kingsford.

Kingsford was held deep in its own territory on the following series of plays and big Jim Mongrain scooped up the pigskin and drove over the goal line. The Eskymos elected to run for the point but Dahlin failed to dent the Flivv line and the score was 19-18.

Ron Dufour recovered a Delcin fumble early in the fourth period but the Eskymos were unable to capitalize and punted from their own 35.

Final Bid Fails

The teams exchanged punts until late in the period when Kingsford quarterback Clay Willman was belted hard and fumbled on his 35. Mongrain hopped on the ball with two minutes and 30 seconds remaining.

Mankske lugged the ball to the 17 yard line for a first down with a half minute remaining. Three pass plays failed and on the last play of the game a hurried handoff was fumbled in the Eskymo backfield.

Mongrain was the defensive standout on the field. The 185-pound senior end teamed up with tackle Dick Johnson to blast Flivver runners off their feet time and again.

The Eskymos return to action next Saturday in another home stand, facing the Iron Mountain Mountaineers.

Emeralds Turned Back 20-7 By Munising In Great Lakes Game

MUNISING — The Manistique Emeralds penetrated the Munising defenses four times here Saturday afternoon but were unable to move after driving inside the 10-yard line and lost 20-7 to the Mustangs.

Coach Dick Bonifas' Emeralds scored first, with quarterback Jim Cowman returning a short Munising punt 15 yards to the goal line in the first period. Bob Corson kicked his sixth straight extra point to give Manistique a 7-0 lead.

The Emeralds were still stymied deep in Munising territory just before the punt return. Munising had taken the opening kickoff and fumbled several plays later. The Emeralds smashed to the three-yard line where Munising stiffened and took over on downs.

Mustangs Tie Score

Again in the second period Manistique marched inside the Munising 10 but was unable to dent the goal line. Munising took over on downs. Coach Pete Timley's Mustangs knotted the score shortly before the half when Frank Hammila fired a pass to Gary DeLisle for a touchdown, the play covering 35 yards. Munising ran for the extra point to tie it at 7-7.

The Emeralds received the second half kickoff and again marched to within scoring distance. But the drive bogged down inside Munising's 10 and the Emeralds surrendered on downs.

The teams see-sawed around midfield until shortly before the third period ended. Manistique pushed to the Munising 12-yard line and elected to try their ace place-kicker, Bob Corson, on a field goal attempt. Corson's boot was wide of the uprights.

Touchdown Called Back

Munising failed to reach midfield and punted to Manistique's

Pinky Higgins Named New Red Sox Manager

BOSTON (P) — The Boston Red Sox today hired Frank "Pinky" Higgins to manage the American League ball club for the next two years. He will replace Lou Boudreau who ran the team the last three seasons.

Higgins, former star major league third baseman, has been managing the Red Sox system for the past eight years. He piloted the Louisville Colonels in the triple A American Assn. to the Little World Series title this season, defeating Syracuse of the International League in the best of seven interleague series which ended Saturday.

Boudreau had one year to go on his Boston contract. Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin told a gathering of baseball writers: "Gentlemen, the Red Sox have decided to make a change in managers."

He said the Red Sox will "meet the obligation" insofar as the second year of Boudreau's current contract is concerned. He added that if Boudreau should get another job in baseball any necessary adjustment will be made.

Higgins, a Texan, began his major league career immediately after his 1930 graduation from the University of Texas, signing with the Philadelphia Athletics.

After two years in the minors, in 1931 with Dallas and San Antonio, and 1932 at Portland, he played for four years with the A's. He was with the Sox in '37 and '38 and the next seven years with Detroit, returning to Boston for his final active season in '46.

The next year he managed Roanoke, Va., a Red Sox farm in the class B Piedmont League. Higgins was there two years, then two with Birmingham and the past four with Louisville.

The Red Sox finished fourth this season.

Green Bay Central Catholic took advantage of Escanaba Central miscues here yesterday afternoon to grab a 25-0 victory over Coach Tom St. Germain's underdog gridgers.

The alert Green Bay team scored all four touchdowns as the result of Central errors. Statistically the visitors were outplayed in every phase of the game except the score.

In the initial period Green Bay recovered a Central fumble on the 29-yard line and scored five plays later. Shortly before the period ended Green Bay intercepted a Central pass to set up another touchdown inside the 20-yard line. In the third period Green Bay grabbed another stray aerial and returned to the three-yard line from where they scored the third TD. Their fourth touchdown also came as the result of an interception which was carried for a touchdown.

Intercept Five Passes

Coach Ted Fritsch's Cadets intercepted five Central passes and recovered two enemy fumbles.

But in rushing, passing, first downs and kick returns Central more than held its own. Central backs gained 92 yards rushing and 41 passing for a net total of 133. Green Bay picked up 92 rushing and 19 passing for 111. Central had eight first downs to five for Green Bay.

The out-manned Central gridgers received a severe jolt shortly before the first period ended when tackle Allan Villeneuve was injured and carried from the game on a stretcher. The freak injury was the result of a blow to the wind-pipe which knocked the Central player unconscious. Villeneuve remained in St. Francis Hospital for observation last night and was released this morning.

Lose Other Tackle

On the next play from scrimmage Central lost the other tackle, Leroy Villeneuve when officials ejected him from the game after a scramble for a loose Green Bay fumble. Central replacements for the two tackles were a freshman and sophomore, both of whom were guards.

Escanaba Central made its first serious threat to cross Green Bay's goal line in the late minutes of the third period when they drove to the 27 before losing the ball on downs.

Early in the fourth quarter Central center Arnold Heriksen blocked a Green Bay kick on the Green Bay 18. Central drove to the nine before surrendering on downs. Minutes later Mike Venne recovered a Green Bay fumble on the 16, but again the Cadets dug in and held on the 13. In the closing minutes of the game Bob Rodman, halfback, blocked another Green Bay punt on the 11 and Central drove to the two-yard line before time ran out.

Early Fumble

Green Bay's first break came when Central fullback Jim Greenwood fumbled the ball on the first play from scrimmage. Don Murawski recovered on the Escanaba 29. Green Bay drove to the three from where Roger Melotte ploughed over. The attempted placement was blocked by Leroy Villeneuve.

Bob Cashman, Cadet linebacker, intercepted a Greenwood pass on the Green Bay 40 and returned to the Escanaba 19. Four plays later Melotte scored from the eight. The placement failed and the score was 12-0.

Early in the second period a pass by Bill Lancour was plucked off by Melotte on the Escanaba Central 28 and the Green Bay fullback crashed to the three-yard line. He carried twice from scrimmage to score, making it 18-0. Gary Basten kicked the extra point.

The final GB touchdown came in the third period when Dale Van Ermen intercepted a pass on the Escanaba Central 44 and raced into the end zone.

Lancour Top Runner

Central's left halfback Bill Lancour was the game's leading ground gainer with 40 yards from scrimmage on 17 carries. Lancour also stood out on defense, as did Heriksen, Central center.

Bob Rodman and Mike Venne each recovered two Green Bay fumbles while Rodman and Heriksen blocked Cadet punts.

Leading the Green Bay defense was Dale Van Ermen and Bob Skaleski.

The loss was the second against three wins for Central and was the first they were unable to score this season. Green Bay Central has won four against one defeat and it was the Cadets' fourth straight game with their goal line uncrossed.

Players Injured In Game Reported Okay

The two football players injured in the Escanaba Catholic Central-Green Bay Central game yesterday are reported in good condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Allan Villeneuve, Escanaba Central tackle, was hurt in a freak accident which happened when he made a hard tackle on Jim Funk, Green Bay back. Villeneuve was knocked unconscious and swallowed his tongue. He was revived at the hospital and rested comfortably last night.

Jim Sevierre, Green Bay end, suffered an injured back muscle and will be released from St. Francis this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Cassady Leads Big 10 Scorers

CHICAGO (P)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State was limited to one touchdown against Illinois Saturday but the Buckeye speedster maintained his Big Ten scoring lead with 30 points.

Cassady, who previously scored twice in each game against Indiana and California, was forced to give the spotlight to teammate Bobby Watkins in the 40-7 romp over Illinois.

Watkins scored two touchdowns against the Illini to take his place among four players tied for second with 24 points each.

Another tie put four players in sixth place with 18 points apiece. They are Clary Bratt of Wisconsin, Dick Pinky McNamara of Minnesota, Jerry Reichow of Iowa and Bill Murawski of Purdue.

Canadian Soo Admitted To Hockey Circuit, Now The NM-Ontario League

ISHPEMING (Special)—A five-team Northern Michigan-Ontario Hockey League replacing the four-team Northern Michigan circuit of last season was organized at a meeting in the Mather Inn here yesterday afternoon.

Thus, the Escanaba Hawks, winner of the championship last winter, will defend their title against the additional challenge of the Canadian Soo, the fifth team admitted to the league yesterday. Other members are Marquette, Calumet and Portage Lake.

The Canadian Soo, represented by Joseph Scarfone, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., will be a traveling team, it was pointed out. It will play three times in Escanaba and in each of the other three cities. Four points will be at stake in each of its games as compared with the customary two for other contests. The Canadian Soo will not play any home games.

Escanaba, Marquette, Calumet and Portage Lake will each have 12 home games. They will play each other six times during the season, three away and three at home, and in addition each will be host to the Soo three times, making a total of 21 games.

Escanaba will be host to the all-star game in Marquette the first week in December, it was decided. Joe Savini, of Calumet, will coach the all-stars.

Team representatives at the organization session here were Savini and George Orr, Calumet; Tony Bukovich and John Ala, Portage Lake; Scarfone, Soo; James G. Ward Jr., and Marc Olson, Escanaba, and Harold W. Alholm and George Johnson, Marquette. Milton Joffe, of Hancock, new league president, conducted the meeting.

Wolverine Fans Highly Pleased

ANN ARBOR (P)—The satisfaction was so extraordinary at Michigan today it could almost be tasted.

It was all because of one football victory—the sensational 14-13 comeback triumph over Iowa Saturday.

At no time in recent years has a Michigan win meant quite so much as this one in which Benji Oosterbaan's eleven, a strict short-order, refused to give up and turned threatened doom to a great success.

The Wolverines came out of the tough Iowa battle undamaged. Also, halfback Tony Branoff and fullback Lou Baldacci may be ready for play. Neither was in action against Iowa.

Two Michigan fumbles gave Iowa two touchdowns and 13 points in the first eight minutes of play. But Michigan came back to score two of its own and 14 points in the same first period and kept control all the rest of the way with a smashing, driving ground game.

Sophomore quarterback Jim Maddock engineered the 58-yard drive for the first Michigan touchdown and tossed a 28-yard pass to Ron Gramer for the second one.

Sooners On Good Start To Win National Grid Crown

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press
 Unless an unexpected disaster overcomes Oklahoma, the Sooners should win the mythical national college football championship this year.
 With only three weeks of the season gone, time probably has run out on Notre Dame. The one defeat the Irish suffered at the hands of Purdue probably will deprive young Terry Brennan of a title in his first year as a head coach.
 Oklahoma already is over the big stumbling block of its schedule, and, although Bud Wilkinson's lads still have seven games to go, none of the remaining teams figures to be in the class of Texas, which fell before the Sooners 14-7 last Saturday.

Rest of Schedule
 Oklahoma still has Kansas, Kansas State, Colorado, Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma A&M on its schedule. Some of these certainly are not pushovers and that greater equalizer, the one-platoon system, could work against any club.
 But if the Sooners can lick an outfit like Texas without the aid of Gene Calame, they ought to be able to take anyone else with him. He probably will be back against Kansas.

Jim Harris took over for Calame and the sophomore substitute made his gloomy coaches eyes light up. Harris' passing was a revelation and he'll be heard from in the future.
Could Go To Wire
 If things keep going as they are, the Coast race could go right down to the final game when UCLA and Southern California meet on Nov. 20. The Big Ten, on the other hand, could be decided this week when Wisconsin and Purdue come to grips.
 Purdue was not figured as a real first-class title threat before the season started, but passer Len Dawson changed all that. The only trouble is, he can be stopped. Duke proved that when they all but grounded him in their 13-all tie in the next two weeks.
 At the moment, UCLA and Wisconsin are Oklahoma's chief rivals for national honors. But even their position is precarious. The Uclans barely got past Washington, 21-20, and Wisconsin had considerable trouble beating Rice 13-7.
 Both UCLA and Wisconsin stay in their own leagues for the rest of the campaign. The Uclans have five more Pacific Coast Conference games left, starting with Stanford, while the Badgers still have to get by half a dozen Big Ten foes.

Irish Rebound
 Notre Dame was impressive in its 33-0 victory over Pitt. The victory showed that Brennan and his crew were capable of rebounding after a humiliation. That's a good sign, but the Irish still have to tackle Michigan State and Navy in the next two weeks.
 While Minnesota takes on the woefully weak Illini Saturday, the top powers clash in key games. Iowa is at Ohio State and Purdue challenges Wisconsin.
 This is the big test for the Hawkeyes. If they can bounce back from their 14-13 loss to Michigan against Ohio State, they're still contenders. If not, they're through.
 The power-bent Buckeyes trampled Illinois 40-7 for their third straight win and second in the conference.
 Purdue, tied by Duke 13-13, gets its opportunity against Wisconsin's defense.
 The Badgers have yielded but one touchdown in blanking Rose Bowl champion Michigan State and beating Cotton Bowl titlist Rice, 13-7.
Rugged Badger Slate
 Even if the Badgers hurdle Purdue, there'll be little rest at Madison. Ohio State and Iowa follow on one of the toughest schedules in the nation.
 Michigan moves in on Northwestern and the Wolves will have to look good to prove their victory over Iowa wasn't a "given day" performance. Always tough in Big Ten circles, Michigan must now be looked upon as a contender.
 Michigan State gets away from conference action Saturday but it's not an enviable move. The Spartans, 21-14 victors over Indiana, are at Notre Dame.

Gophers Moving Up To Fore In Big Ten Race

By JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO (P) — Minnesota is quietly and steadily moving into the Big Ten title picture and even indicates it might regain the pre-war glory of the Golden Gophers before the 1954 season ends.
 Aided by an advantageous schedule which doesn't include Ohio State and Purdue, the undefeated Gophers have shown steady improvement in wading through Nebraska, Pitt and Northwestern.
 Illinois is next on the list which states Iowa and Wisconsin the final two Saturdays of the season.
 By that time, Minnesota could rate with the best. Saturday the Gophers spotted Northwestern one touchdown and then wrecked the vaunted Wildcat defense with four quick touchdowns for a 26-7 triumph.

Navy Comes Out Of Nowhere This Year

By GEORGE BOWEN
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P) — Where did this football talent seem to come from suddenly on the undefeated Navy squad?
 The Middies, three-time winners, vaulted into the national limelight Saturday with a smashing 25-0 victory that dumped Stanford from the undefeated ranks.
 They came home from that one to a terrific welcome Sunday night. Tecumseh Court in front of the Midshipmen Dormitory was dark when the busses pulled in, but within seconds it was brilliantly lighted and filled with 3,600 shouting midshipmen.
Some Strange Names
 Some of the names hailed were strange to last year's varsity roster.
 Dick Echard caught public attention fast as one of these Johnny-come-latelies.
 Hardly anyone heard of him until the Dartmouth game when an injury to first string quarterback George Welsh gave him his chance. Echard threw two touchdown passes to pull Navy ahead.
 Echard had been playing football at the Academy for three years, with the plebes (freshmen) and the junior varsity.
 He's no exception. There are two other seniors in the first string line, Len Benzi at guard and Bob Davis at center, who haven't earned a varsity letter yet.

Jaycee Tackle
 At tackle is Jim Royer who also slaved on the jayvees last year and at end Jim Owen who was fourth string on the varsity.
 At the start of the season, coach Eddie Erdelatz admitted it sounded trite but said most of any success the Navy team had would be due to "a great desire to play football."
 Echard is more than bearing him out. The 168-pounder from Peoria, Ill., was described in Navy's publicity brochure as "determined to see varsity action. Will not concede the starting assignment at quarterback to anyone."
 The bout is limited to eight rounds because you have to be 20 to go 10 in New York state. Patterson, fourth-ranking light heavyweight contender, generally doesn't have to worry about distance anyway. In winning 15 of 16 pro bouts, he has scored 10 knockouts. In his last outing Aug. 2 against Tommy Harrison, he won on a first-round knockout.
 Ferdinand, making his New York debut, has a 39-10-7 record with 10 kayos.
 Starting at 9 p.m. CST, the scrap will be telecast by Du Mont to some parts of the country.

Favor Patterson To Win Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
(By The Associated Press)
 Floyd Patterson, the Brooklyn 19-year-old who showed real punching power in his last start, is a 1-3 choice to score his third straight victory tonight at the expense of San Francisco's Esau Ferdinand at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Bobby Dykes of Miami and Ted Olla of Milwaukee, a couple of stiff-punching middleweights, collide in a 10-rounder tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Dykes is a 5-8 favorite to record his 101st victory. Starting time is 9 p.m. CST, for the ABC telecast.
The top fight of the light week is scheduled for Syracuse's War Memorial Auditorium Friday night when Carmen Basilio, the top-ranking welterweight contender, meets Allie Gronik of Detroit in a 10-rounder.

Indiana's Charges Are Surprise To Spartans

EAST LANSING (P) — Coach Hugh Daugherty of Michigan State College says he is "surprised at the charge" that Spartan tacklers deliberately twisted the injured leg of Indiana star back Milt Campbell in MSC's 21-14 victory Saturday.
 Indiana coach Bernie Crimmins said at Bloomington Sunday that the former decathlon champion told him MSC tacklers twisted his leg almost every time he was tackled.
 Campbell told Crimmins he hit one tackler on the helmet to stop the twisting and was warned by an official. Crimmins said he told the 209-pound track star from Painfield, N. J., he should have kicked the Michigan State player.

 Daugherty said he talked to Crimmins and the Indiana players after the game and nothing was said about the charge.
 Daugherty said "Michigan State does not have the type of player that would deliberately take advantage of an injury."
 A dramatic reshuffling of the backfield, mostly forced by the crippling leg injury to Leroy Bolden, finally produced the winning offensive combination for the Spartans.
 Earl Morrall and sophomore Pat Wilson of Lapeer alternated at quarterback. Johnny Matsock of Detroit and sophomore Clarence Peaks of Flint, both former quarterbacks, teamed at right and left half.
 Peaks started the Spartans off in the first quarter when he took a 10-yard pass from Morrall and went 60 yards to score.
 Matsock and Wilson went over with the other MSC touchdowns.

Same Story In Hockey League

DETROIT (P) — After one week, it's still the same old story in the National Hockey League race.
 Both the Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens won their first two games to stay on top of the pile. The Wings shut out New York 4-0 Saturday night in Detroit, while the Canadiens were humbling Boston 4-1.
 Gordie Howe scored one goal and set up another for the Wings. Marty Pavelich, Glen Skov, and Red Kelly came through with the others.
 The Wings and Canadiens come face to face in Montreal Wednesday and again in Detroit Saturday.
 The standings:

Young TCU Grid Team Better Than Thought

FORT WORTH, Tex. (P) — If Texas as Christian's football team knew its own strength the fans might be looking for a high Southwest Conference finish around here this season.
 But it doesn't and that goes for coach Abe Martin, too. He's certain of only one thing: the Horned Frogs are better than anybody thought they would be. Southern California, so rudely ushered out of the ranks of the undefeated by the Frogs Friday night, undoubtedly will agree wholeheartedly with that.
 The trouble with TCU is that it plays well against the top teams from other areas but tightens up at home. Could be because there are so many sophomores, observes Amos Melton, former TCU football player who is now the sports director of his alma mater.
 There are 27 sophomores in a squad of 48, making TCU one of the youngest football outfits in the country.
 "The Frogs were tight as a drum against Arkansas," said Melton, "and they got beat 20-13. They were relaxed against Southern California and won 20-7. They evidently thought they just as well have a good time while they were at it. So they play a game without making a mistake and they beat the nation's No. 9 team."
 The Frogs carried mighty Oklahoma down to the last gun before losing 21-16. Oklahoma was No. 1 in the nation at the time.
 "Take about two plays out of our games and we'd be undefeated," points out Melton.
 "An intercepted pass in the final minute cost us a tie with Arkansas, a fumble cost us victory. A long punt return kept us from beating Oklahoma."

Tittle Ruins Packers 23-17

MILWAUKEE (P) — Y. A. Tittle, despite a broken hand, came off the San Francisco bench in the fourth quarter Sunday to spark a two-touchdown rally that gave the 49ers a 23-17 National Football League victory over the Green Bay Packers.
 A crowd of 15,571, weathering a steady rain, saw the 49ers move to a 10-point lead in the first quarter. Hugh McElhenny's touchdown capped a 57-yard drive. Gordon Soltau converted and later kicked a 37-yard field goal.
 Green Bay pushed ahead in the third with two touchdowns and a 45-yard field goal.
 Then Tittle went to work. Billy Mixon snared a pass on the Frisco 29 and in 11 plays Tittle had his 49ers across the goal line. Soltau's conversion kick hit the upright, however, and the Packers still led 17-16.
 A 53-yard pass after a Packer punt sent the 49ers to the Green Bay 16 and after five ground plays netted 14 yards. Tittle went the final two himself. Soltau's kick ended the scoring.

Lions Roll Over Rams For 21 To 3 Triumph

By ED WILKS
(By The Associated Press)
 If anybody plans to knock off the Detroit Lions for the National Football League championship this season, they've got their work cut out for them. The Lions aren't going to be easy to budge.
 A case in point is what happened to the Los Angeles Rams Sunday at Detroit. In past years the Lions just rolled over and played dead for the Rams, winning only 4 of 17 meetings since 1946.
 Sunday the best the Rams, admittedly still shaken by the bruising tie with San Francisco's 49ers the previous weekend, could do was a field goal as Detroit rolled to a 21-3 triumph.

Bears Beat Cat
 Elsewhere, the Chicago Bears defeated Baltimore 28-9. Cleveland beat the Chicago Cardinals 31-7 and New York ran wild against Washington 51-21. Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 24-22 Saturday night.
 Tittle, injured in the Rams' game, rushed in against the Pack.

ers and 11 plays later the 49ers were only one point back. Again at work, Tittle tossed a 53-yard pass that carried to the 16 and five plays later he himself pushed over from the 2 for the deciding TD.

Elect your favorite players of the week

Here it is—your chance to get behind your own personal favorites of the World Champion Detroit Lions. Starting now, and continuing throughout the season, Goebel gives you a chance to get out and vote for the players you think most valuable to the Lions.

Each week your votes will be tabulated by one of America's leading universities and the winners, one offensive and one defensive player, will be announced at Briggs Stadium and on all Goebel broadcasts and telecasts.

The two players with the highest total vote for the entire season will be declared "the favorite Lions of 1954." Vote today—help the players you'd like to see win.

Permanent contest trophies, on which season's winners' names will be engraved, now on display at Ernst Kern Co. and Charles W. Warren & Co.

Shown at left is the Goebel ballot box conveniently placed in taverns and beer stores throughout the State. Be sure to stop in and vote every week. After you vote, take time to enjoy Goebel Beer—always the winner for good taste.

Bowlers Pastime One With Strange History

WASHINGTON — A bowling alley is a far cry from a church aisle. Yet the sport now coming in with the fall season for some 15 to 20 million Americans has a history that goes back to primitive religious rites.

Bowling at pins, as distinct from the even older sport of lawn bowling or bowls, has been traced to Europe's early Germanic tribes, says the National Geographic Society.

The Teutonic people had a favorite wooden bottle-shaped club, which they used to toughen their muscles in exercises to hammer objects, to bludgeon their enemies, or in discuslike throwing contests. It was known as a kegel, a word still denoting a ninepin or game of ninepins. Bowlers in Germany today are called "keglers."

Test Of Virtue

According to William Pehle, a 19th century German authority on bowling history, the old Teutonic priests tested their followers' virtue by the kegel.

The subject was required to roll a small stone toward his club. If he hit the target his righteousness was established. If not, he later repeated until he could move his rectitude.

This religious rite is believed to have died out after the fifth century. By then, however, the practice of knocking or bowling over a single club or group of clubs had caught on as a sport.

Played with large stones and eventually with wooden balls, bowling became a popular medieval pastime, indoors and out, in villages and cities, at monasteries, country estates and palaces.

At first the number of kegels or pins varied anywhere from three to 17. Finally, a set of nine became standard as the game spread in central and northern Europe.

Two Different Games

Meantime, lawn bowls had taken first place in France, Italy and the British Isles, although ninepins—skittles as the English-speaking nations called it—was also played.

The two sports are quite different. Lawn bowling calls for open, closely-cropped turf, rather than the narrow, polished-wood alleys used in the indoor pin game.

Instead of massed pins, a small white ball, the "jack," is the lawn target. The balls rolled toward this goal are structurally unbalanced, permitting skill in curve manipulation. A player tries to place his ball closer to the jack than his opponents. When necessary he knocks their balls out of the way, as in shuffleboard.

Both lawn bowls and bowling at pins were played in the American colonies and early republic. But the game of ninepins, introduced by the Dutch and immortalized in Washington Irving's "Rip Van Winkle," surged ahead.

Its popularity was almost its undoing. So many unscrupulous gamblers moved in during the mid-19th century that public opinion turned against the game. Connecicut passed a law prohibiting it.

Bowling was revived by faithful adherents who changed the target from nine to 10 pins and organized the American Bowling Congress to establish standard rules.

To Live Long 'Keep Breathing'

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP)—Streeter S. Smith recalled the tolling of bells following Lincoln's death and Union soldiers marching through Newburyport, Mass., as he celebrated his 101st birthday.

His birthday celebration was as usual, a trip to York Beach, Maine, for a feed of lobster stew and clams. Wearing his 77-year-old wedding day hat—it cost him $1.50 in 1877—the centenarian went back 97 years in memory and told of a cattle show he attended when he was 4 years old.

By trade he became a carriage painter.

To the usual question as to what he attributes his long life. Streeter Smith reiterated, "I just keep breathin!"

SPLITTING MICA

The mineral mica splits cleanly along parallel lines into flake sheets or layers when struck, and it can be split so thinly that 1000 sheets make a pile only an inch high.

Cutworms Worked Night And Day

CLIFTON, Ill. (AP)—Cutworms, working around the clock, ruined Art Hansen's 40-acre field of corn. The glossy worms chewed away at the newly grown corn during the night and another species, the black cutworm, took over the day shift.
